☞ JOB PRINTING of every description executed in a superior manner, at the Office of the PACIFIC NEWS.

THE CONTRACTOR.—In our walks and sights about town we have had our eye upon this hombre for some time. It is not difficult to distinguish him, and you cannot go far abroad without meeting him. He may be "boss" carpenter, mason, wharf-builder or jobber in the grading or planking of the streets. He is not a bustler, nor a blusterer. He goes quietly about his business, and among his workmen, with a good lookout for the "main chance." He is not a handsome man—we boast of none such as a class, except our express men. His brow is wrinkled, and expressive of iron energy, and dogged determination. He stands between two fires completely; his contractee on the one side, and the crowd of hungry workmen to whom he is to pay some thousands of dollars every Saturday night. Besides, his family is in the States, and he does not expect to stay here longer than to make his "pile." So that he is in dread uncertainty from fear of suits for damages for work not done according to contract, and getting his pay for it when done, and a safe return to his wife and chiquitos. We do not believe the slander that he works only for his pay, without caring for anything else, though this has been true in some instances. No man has the fear of the "law" so before his eyes all the day. He knows how jobs can be slighted—ah! that he does right well; but he does not think it quite safe to so use his knowledge. For, so long as he sees his gains sure, there is no necessity for it, and he does not take the job without making good lee-way. It makes some difference to him whether he is contractor-in-chief, or merely a sub-letter. The conscience of the latter gives him little peace, I ween, unless, from the fall in wages, he is unexpectedly enabled to realize more than he anticipated. The contractor is usually seen with his coat on, and never more than thirty seconds in one place. As to his habitat at home, you may be sure that he lived within less than 1000 miles of New York or Boston, and that he left for California, via the Horn, between the 10th of January and 1st of April, 1849, expecting to be at home again within two years.

Seven-and-a-half dollars a month and found.—In our walks about town we saw, on Tuesday, a recruiting office on the corner of the Adobe building and the Plaza. So the old thing has come back at last—regular service, regular discipline and regular pay—in California! We supposed it would come to this at last, even here. But seriously, we believe that the 'service' of the United States is to some men the very best situation in which they can be placed. The recruits are always carefully selected as to physical qualities, and the position they hold is altogether honorable. The officers of the American army are, as a general thing, a very fine class of men; and ever since Capt. Halleck's admirable lectures before the Lowell Institute and our visit to Mexico since the peace, our views on the whole subject of the Art of War have materially changed.

THE PHILADELPHIA MINT.—The operations of this mint from January to September 1, show the following result:

Gold deposits from Jan. 1 to July 31, 1850,	$13,791,210 81
In August, 1850,	3,250,000 00
	$17,041,210 81
Gold coinage from Jan. 1 to July 31, 1850,	$12,569,467 50
In August, 1850,	1,832,105 00
	$14,511,572 50
Silver bullion received from January to August 31, 1850,	$316,342 62
Silver coinage same per'd,	241,337 14
Copper do. do.	10,013 86

VISITING EUROPE.—By late arrivals, we see that it is becoming quite the fashion in the States to make a trip to Europe and back, after spending a few weeks across the Atlantic. On the score of expense, this can be done much more easily than a trip to California. It costs less, to go to England or the Continent, from New York, than it does to go to Chagres. Besides the expense of living is even less while absent, than in hotels at home. But that Europe can be profitably visited in a flying trip of eight or ten weeks, is more than to be doubted. It rather fosters than extinguishes prejudice, to obtain only a random view of what needs to be studied, to be properly appreciated, while it often feeds the pride and vanity of those who think themselves made wiser by it. The amount of travelling is astonishing.

☞ The New York Methodist Concern printed, in 1845, seventy-nine millions, seven hundred and sixteen thousand pages of Sunday School books; in 1847 forty-seven millions, seven hundred and eighty-eight thousand pages; and, in 1848, forty-six millions, nine hundred and ninety-nine thousand; making the astounding aggregate of one hundred and seventy-four millions, five hundred and three thousand pages of Sunday School books in three years. To this must be added the annual circulation of about eighty-five thousand copies of the Sunday School Advocate.

☞ The owner of the steamer "Gov. Dana," which plies between Sacramento and Marysville, had received, up to August 10, $30,000 of net profits for his boat, which commenced running in April. The prospects for the next six months from this time, are better still. The peculiar construction of this boat well fits her for the shallow and rapid waters of the upper Sacramento, Feather and Yuba rivers. In this respect, she has no superior.

Rum-Drinking—The books of the First Marshal, says the New York Express, show that up to the 1st of August, 150 more licenses have been issued in 1850, for the selling of spirituous liquor, than during the whole of 1849. In the latter year the number of licenses granted was 3985. During the present year, to Aug. 1st, the number was 4145. The largest number issued was in the 4th ward, where 348 were issued in each year.

The New York Courier learns "from a source fully entitled to credit, that Mrs. Miller, whose sudden disappearance and supposed suicide at Niagara Falls elicited so much remark, returned to the home of her father, the late Senator Norvell, at Detroit, Michigan, who has died during her absence." It is stated that her mind seems to be disordered.

$25,000 FOR CHAPLIN!—The Abolition convention, at Cazenovia, New York, before adjournment, passed a resolution to raise, in thirty days, the sum of 25,000 to pay the expenses of a legal defence of W. L. Chaplin, the slave stealer, who is now in prison at Washington city, and to help him to recover his liberty.

☞ An Ohio paper mentions that an old man, accompanied by his step-daughter of 18, and his step-son aged 9 years, walked 40 miles in one day in pursuit of the step-daughter's husband and the step-father's wife, who had eloped together. The eloping parties were not.

☞ A young man who has rather confused ideas in relation to right in property, was, says the Cincinnati Commercial, shot with black pepper and other agreeable substances a few days since, in Miami town, while stealing peaches in an orchard.

The Knoxville Register says that silver ore has been found near Cumberland Falls, in Kentucky, which promises to yield a profitable return to those who may engage in mining it. The vein discovered is said to extend the distance of a mile, and is ten feet in depth. The supply is thought to be inexhaustible.

England has recently shipped a cargo of thieves from Bermuda to New York. They should all be sent back again.

KLAMATH GOLD MINES, River and Town.—One of the most extensive fields for speculation at present in California.

The attention of the public is now called to this very important part of California. The town of Klamath is situated on the bank and at the vicinity of the mouth of a river, upon the numerous tributaries of which the most productive and extensive gold mines have been discovered of any now in existence in California. The Harbor (at the upper end of which this beautiful town site is situated) is both commodious and secure, and possesses the very superior advantage over all the other ports upon the coast between the Columbia river and San Francisco of a perfectly safe entrance. The river is a magnificent stream and navigable by steamers, according to the opinion of steamboat captains and others in every way competent to judge of the matter, at least 70 miles up; at, and even below which point, these very rich gold mines commence. Merchants and capitalists who are desirous of realizing a handsome profit upon their goods and an enormous return for their capital cannot enter into a better speculation or make a more safe investment of their means in any part of California, from the fact that there are at present about 2000 miners at work upon this river and its tributaries; and there is every reason to believe, from the numerous satisfactory statements of the miners, relative to their success during the last year, that next year there will be many times the number. The immediate rush to these mines from all parts will be immense, and in fact almost unprecedented; and this town, which may be said to be adjacent, in consequence of the water communication into the very heart of them, must and will undoubtedly be insured a speedy and almost magic growth, and by this time next year will be a very respectable rival to (if not totally eclipsing,) Sacramento and Stockton. Miners who have, during the last summer expended to such a deplorable extent their useless toil and labor in the southern mines, and have actually lost money in the place of making it, by the unsuccessful and numerous damming operations, and the scarcity of gold there, are strongly recommended to turn their attention to these mines, as the average amount dug last year, putting it at an infinitely lower estimate than from the statements of the miners we would be warranted in putting it, one ounce per day to the man. This alone is sufficient to justify the opinion that there is ample room for more, and when it is taken into consideration that not over one-tenth part of the gold region has as yet been explored, the certainty of room is rendered beyond doubt. The enormous tax upon the miners for packing of provisions will next year be effectually obviated by the aid of water communication, which extends into the very heart of the mines. Goods can be taken from the deck of steamers by the miners in the place of the pack-saddle of the mule, and provisions now furnished at an expense of $1 50 for the mere packing, can be afforded for ten cents, thus enabling the miner to lay by the fruits of their labor, instead of expending so great a quota for subsistence. To persons wishing to invest capital to an advantage in town lots, an almost unparalleled money making speculation is now open; as lots at the present time can be procured at a comparatively low figure, and the price that they will be disposed of next spring will be high. Arrangements have been made for a steamer to ply between the town and the mines, which will warrant to miners the supply of provisions forthwith.

TRIUMPH IN THE OLD STATES.

Although far away from the active strife of politics in the older States, we cannot, if we would, divest ourselves entirely of the feeling of interest we have always taken in the result of the State elections, and as we glance over our exchanges, and find State after State wheeling into line, it causes a thrill of pleasure that renews our faith in the good old Democratic doctrines, and our confidence in the sober second thoughts of the masses. While a Whig National Administration has been appointing its favorites to offices in every corner of the land, the people have refused to endorse their course by rolling up the following Democratic victories.

Iowa.

The fruits of the recent triumph in this State are—

A Democratic Governor,
Two Democratic Congressmen,
A Democratic Secretary of State,
A Democratic Auditor of State.
A Democratic Treasurer of the Board,
And an overwhelming Democratic majority of both branches of the Legislature.

Next comes.

Indiana.

This has ever been considered a doubtful State, but under the present Whig misrule, she shows herself to be on the side of the people. The result of the last election, which took place on the 5th ult., is—

A Democratic House,
A Democratic Senate,
A Democratic majority on joint ballot of 34!

This will do pretty well for a doubtful States.

But the greatest and most surprising turn-about is in that everlasting old Whig State

North Carolina.

The little leaven of Democracy here seems to have hoisted the whole lump, electing by some 4000 majority,

A Democratic Governor,
A Democratic House,
A Democratic Senate,

With a majority of 14 on a joint ballot.

Last but not least of the recent elections and most surprising Democratic victories, comes Kentucky.

Who would have thought that this State, capable of giving 25,000 Whig majority, would ever elect a Democratic Legislature? Such is the fact if the returns have been reported correctly. The recent Convention to remodel her Constitution, was also a Democratic body.

In April last it will be remembered the Whigs sustained a Waterloo defeat in Connecticut, losing Governor, Legislature, and a United States Senator. So much for recent victories. Every State, whether formerly Whig or not, has gone Democratic except Missouri; where a division of the Democracy, and not Whig party strenghth produced a different result.

Cholera on Shipboard.—We are pained to announce several deaths by cholera on board the schooner G. H. Montague, Charles Meek, master, which arrived here during Monday night. She left Sacramento on Friday last, the 18th inst., having on board 43 passengers for Panama, and a crew of seven men. On the 19th, a passenger named Franklin Lamb, of Groton, Conn., died after a few hours' illness, and was buried at Benecia. On Monday at 4 o'clock, Geo. W. Walcott, of Waltham, Mass; at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Holbrook, of North Adams, Mass.; at 9, John Shenck, of Waltham; and at 11, Lemuel Fales, of Warren, R. I., died. Yesterday, at 3 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Joyce, second mate, and at 5, John Reed, a passenger, died—making 7 deaths in all. At noon, yesterday, the captain and four others were sick on board the vessel.

We understand that Dr. Rogers pronounces the disease to be cholera in its worst form. The vessel has been quarantined.

Prospective.—The Courier promises a "splendid race of men and women," if the "matrons and maidens of Massachusetts and Virginia" will settle in California. A man should promise no more than he can perform.

...unication
...zen of Stock-
...plaining of a grievance un-
...er which himself, in common with numerous others, are laboring from the great difficulty in obtaining their letters from the San Francisco Post Office. So far as our experience goes we have ever found Col. Moore disposed to do all in his power for the accommodation of the public, which may be seen in the increased facilities for the early delivery of the contents of the immense mails regularly received from the States. As, however, we deem it fair to give voice to all who have reason to complain of any matter of public concernment, we cannot refuse our correspondent an opportunity to state his grievance, at the same time, we cannot but think there is a misapprehension on his part, and that all requests of the kind are not intentionally disregarded. It is possible the gentleman may not have had any letters in the San Francisco Post Office since the receipt of his directions in the premises:

Stockton, Oct. 16

Editor of Pacific News:

I beg leave through your columns to call the attention of the proper authorities to a serious grievance under which almost every man in California labors who is not a resident of San Francisco, and who has letters from the States to his address in said Post-office. You cannot possibly obtain them from the clutches of the postmaster unless you leave your business and call for them in persona propria, however remote your residence, or pay the 'Express' enormous compensation for getting them out of the office.

In all offices in the United States letters are forwarded from one office to another, when a decent request is made to the Postmaster to do so. In Sacramento city, or in Stockton, the Postmaster forwards communications promptly when requested. Is the Postmaster at San Francisco above attending to any business of this kind? I have written several letters to him, and the Postmaster at Stockton has written two more, all requesting most respectfully that my letters be forwarded from the Post-office to Stockton. These communications, so far from being complied with, have been treated with silent contempt. Does not the Post-office laws require Postmasters to forward letters when a written request is made upon them to do so? Is there a connection between the Postmaster of San Francisco and some of the Express companies? I hope this matter will be looked into and remedied.

Yours, W. C. P.

☞ The Courier quotes from one of our letters, and doubts the statement made, that a man can get his shirt washed on his back, at Acapulco, for a dime. We have no recollection of making the statement, but it is the truth, nevertheless. A man can get his shirt washed for a picayune, or himself for a dime, at the public spring, by as sweet a looking senorita as ever performed the same operation for herself. "Seeing is believing, but feeling is the naked truth," is an old adage, and although we had no other experience than the "believing" portion, still the "naked truth" was sufficiently manifest. We hope our editorial neighbor will not permit this statement to induce him to take the first vessel for Acapulco.

The Hottest Day of the Season, if we may take our sensations as a thermometer, was yesterday. In the calm which has succeeded to the chill winds of summer, and which shows that nature is about taking on the "melting mood," old Sol pours down upon us all the fierce heats of his more youthful days, and would readily induce the belief that it was spring time and not winter "stern ruler of the inverted year" that was just at hand.

A Good Movement.—The Street Commissioner gives notice in another column that unless the lumber, mules, and obstructions generally, which have been deposited on the plaza, are removed by the 25th inst. he will sell them at public auction. This is a good movement, and we trust will have the effect intended. So the public stable and lumber yard is to be closed at last.

Another Daily.—We notice in the Sacramento papers, the prospectus for a new daily, to be publish in that city, by Louis M. Booth & Co. It is to be called "The Daily Tribune," the first number to make its appearance about the third of November. It will be neutral in politics.

For Oregon.—Callard & Co., the efficient and honorable passage agents will despatch the Emily Farnham for Portland and Astoria, Oregon, to-day. The vessel is a fast sailer, and will be well provisioned for the voyage.

Property at San Jose.—Very desirable property is advertised for sale at San Jose. Some of the most valuable lots in the city will be disposed of at public auction. See advertisement in another column.

OFFICIAL.

Mayor's Office, San Francisco, October 22, 1850.

For the purpose of stating facts, I request the publication of the following communication.

Jno. W. Geary, Mayor.

To the Hon. John W. Geary, Mayor of San Francisco:

Sir:—The schr. H. S. Montague came to anchor in the bay, off Clark's Point, this morning b-fore day with six persons dead on board, who had suddenly died within a few hours before. At your request the undersigned boarded the vessel at an early hour, and from examination found the following to be the facts:

The vessel had been engaged in the river trade during the past two months. She left Sacramento city on Friday the 18th inst., at 10 A. M. On Saturday morning, 19th, a man died with every symptom of Asiatic cholera; between the hours of ten P. M. on the 21st and 4 A. M. on the 22d (to day,) there were six more deaths from the same disease. There were three cases in a state of collapse on board. One case had been sent on shore to the Sacramento House, whom we found in a similar state, and one at the Virginia House, convalescing. There were from 45 to 50 persons on board when the vessel left Sacramento, of which number twelve have been seized with this disease and seven have died. They were under the care of a physician from Sacramento, Dr. Houghton, and every possible attention given them. The first man that died was buried at Benecia. The six now dead and on board of the vessel, are: Geo. W. Walcott, Mrs. E. Holbrook, Boston; Wm. J. Prentiss, Lemuel Fales, R. I.; Wm. Joyce, and Mr. Reed.

The disease is undoubted Asiatic cholera. So far as we can learn, it is as yet entirely confined to the persons on board this vessel as passengers or crew. We could ascertain no direct source from which the disease could be traced to this vessel.

Respectfully your ob't serv'ts,
P. Smith, M. D.
Theo. Dimon, M. D.

A communication from Dr. Rogers, Health Officer, which came too late for this evenings issue, confirms the above statements.—[Picayune.

From the Sandwich Islands.—In another column we publish a letter from a highly intelligent gentlemen, in relation to a pleasure residence in the Sandwich Islands. That the statement which he makes in regard to the frauds practised, and falsehoods published, in order to induce immigration, are true, to a great extent, we have not the least doubt. We have no idea that the Islands possess any peculiar advantages over California, for a pleasure sojourn, and certainly for business bear no comparison.

Auction Sales This Day.—Jas. B. Huie & Co. will sell at 10 o'clock this morning, a variety of desirable goods.

Henry B. Lafitte & Co., corner of Jackson and Montgomery sts., will sell at 10 o'clock this morning, sugar, potatoes, blankets, &c. &c.

The First Vote.—The first vote given by Mr. Wright, one of our representatives, after his admission to the floor, was against the fugitive slave bill.

☞ J. W. Gregory, of the Express, received per Northerner last evening, fifty-two packages of goods for various dealers here.

Latest from the Society Islands.—By the brig Emma, from Tahiti, we have received, through a member of the house of Cross, Hobson & Co., a letter from our correspondent, which we give for the information of our readers. The picture he draws of the state of society is sad enough, and exhibits few of those good fruits that were expected to be derived by missionary efforts at civilizing and christianizing the ignorant natives. The letter is dated at Papeeti, Aug. 10, 1850.

Editor of Pacific News:

You would be gratified with any tidings from the Island of Tahiti, and be pleased to learn something of the customs, politics, and religion of the people. Alas! sir, these are but a name with them; they have nothing primitive or independent belonging to them; their manners are corrupted by drunkenness and debauchery; their policy is submission to their protectors, and their religion is lip service on the Sabbath day, when numbers congregate to "listen to the music of their own sweet voices," without comprehending the purport of the sounds. In one respect, the habits of the people resemble those sought to be introduced into France, as the women rarely "marry or are given in marriage," but share their favors in common, with those who may possess a dollar to purchase them. Goldsmith has said,

"But a bold pesantry, their country's pride,
When once destroyed, can never be supplied."

The words may apply to the natives of this Island, for they are destroyed, stripped of all nationality, and never to be replaced. The doom of the copper-colored race has gone forth, and ere many generations have passed away, it is my belief that the pen of one of the "restless pale faces" will have to record the "Last of the Tahitians."

The British war brig 'Swift,' arrived here the other day, and sailed on the 5th instant for the adjacent island of Huaheine. This is one of those Islands, owing to the interference of the British government, that escaped the 'protection' of the French. Pending the question, Arripae, the Queen of the Island, resisted French aggression, and repelled the invader of her country with considerable loss. Some time after, with the concurrence of Great Britain and France, the independence of her Island was secured to her.

The success of the old lady conspired to render her "pretty jolly," and she commenced to govern her kingdom much as she "d——d pleased." American and French citizens, and British subjects alike had cause to complain of her impositions; and latterly she connived, if not assisted, at robbing two vessels which were blown ashore. In consequence, the brig Swift, with the British consul, and the French steamer "Cocyte," with the acting American consul on board, went down to seek redress. Remonstrances from three such formidable powers as France, England and America, took all notions of fight out of the old lady, and she lost no time in crying 'peccavi,' and making amends.

The "Cocyte" returned on the 14th, bringing up Arripae on a friendly visit. The "Swift" is on her way to Valparaiso.

We have sad reports of the disorganized state of France, but at present all is tranquil here.

Yours, Anti Humbug.

The French Girls are Coming. We noticed not long since an account of a shipment of 900, more or less, young women from Paris. We understand that they are now daily expected to arrive in three ships, which sailed with them from Havre last spring. Arrangements are making for their accommodation, we understand, in the new buildings on Stockton and Filbert street, towards the north beach. They will form quite a village above, and would be more useful to our young state if they could be distributed more widely over it, and engage in roaring families instead of licentiousness.

Arrival of the Northerner—The steamship Northerner, Capt. Randall, came into port last evening, having made the run up from Panama in 19 days. She brings 156 passengers, among whom are several ladies. The Northerner brings no later news than that by the Oregon.

Information Wanted.—Michael Mathews, formerly of Rochester, N. Y., left Illinois a long time since, overland, for California. His friends are anxious to hear from him. Any information may be communicated to this office.

Cholera at Sacramento.—We perceive that two or three cases of cholera have occurred at Sacramento City, which proved fatal. No new cases have occurred in our own city.

First Side.—On the first and fourth pages will be found a variety of original and select articles.

Monterey.—Dr. A Randall has been elected member of Assembly from Monterey.

THE SANDWICH ISLANDS AS THEY REALLY ARE.

Editor of Pacific News;

As travelling agent for a commercial house, I have during the last twelve years visited portions of Europe, Africa, South America and California. In these different countries, I have been favored with a view of a tolerable fair specimen of the "elephant;" but a sight of the real Simon Pure, the veritable "Horridum Monstrum," taking into consideration my high wrought anticipations, was reserved for my visit to these, "The Sunny Isles of the Tropics."

The oft repeated puffs of the government organ here, the eulogies of (as I now discover) interested residents, together with the glowing descriptions of many who had (never) visited this embryo "Havannah;" induced me to select it as a retreat during the past summer.

My object was two-fold; to invigorate a constitution much enfeebled by an overland trip, with subsequent exposure in the mines, and to gratify a curiosity excited by a perusal of Melville and others, in their sketches of Polynesian life, superadded to these motives, economy, trusting to report, pointed strongly to this group, where a bountiful nature had scattered her luxuries with a profuse hand, and where the "Moloch of trade" had not as yet subverted entirely that unsophisticated system which has ever marked the earlier communications of an enlightened and a barbarous people. I was fully aware that iron hoops and glass beads were no longer a legal tender, nor was I surprised to see that they, with other like primitive circulating medium, had given way to a certain extent, to the almighty dollar; yet to find John Kanaka so sensibly alive to a proper appreciation of the latter coin, and to see how civilized he had become in all monetary transactions, was both matter of surprise and admiration.

The influx of Californians here, last winter, all acting upon the adage that "a fool and his money are soon parted," has tended much to subvert the ancient order of things. A year since, board with lodging, could be had for eight dollars a week; now you are assured that two dollars a day, with five dollars a week for a room, two dollars for a servant, (independent of stealings) washing and extras in proportion, are not at all unreasonable; nor can this state of things be remedied? The natives are nearly the sole owners and producers; you must either purchase of them, or confine your consumptions to plain beef and bread; they are fully aware of this fact, and lay on the 'tariff' accordingly. Now what is there in these Islands to compensate for these excessive charges; not taking into consideration the two hundred dollars passage money from and to California? Wherein is a residence here, even temporarily, preferable to one in San Francisco? Is it on the score of economy? The facts above are a sufficient answer. Are invalids benefitted by the change? Let the obituary notices in the several papers here declare. Many came anticipating a speedy recovery, the invigorating influence of this, so called, genial clime, would soon reestablish their shattered constitutions. What then was their astonishment when advised by their medical attendants to visit the mountains of the windward Islands? a climate similar to the one they had left in California; rain, snow, and bleak, cold winds!

And what are the sources of amusement? for this is one of the motives that induce many to come here—of galloping a Kanaka horse, for which you pay from four to six dollars, through whirlwinds of dust, for a couple of miles, the roads being impassable for equestrian expeditions further than this, with any safety to life and limb; getting jolly on drugged brandy at two dollars and a half per bottle, and playing tenpins with balls nearer a square than a sphere; if this be fun, you can enjoy lots of it. But even in these agreeable pastimes, there are certain "blue law" restrictions, a violation of which will be an increase to the King's exchequer, and to you a corresponding loss.

Every number of the Polynesian teems with old and new discovered advantages which these Islands possess, that even the oldest residents have been as yet unable to perceive. Its last hobby is the law granting to aliens lands in fee simple. Now it is evident to any one possessing even a slight knowledge of the group, that their physical formation, together with the character of the owners of the soil, render this law a nullity. Their structure is entirely volcanic, rock upon rock, mass upon mass; inaccessible and barren, interspersed here and there with gulches, running for a mile or two into their formidable fastnesses, from which issue small rivulets, making their way to the ocean, the margins of which, by irrigation and much labor, are to a certain extent productive. These patches, few and far between, are in the hands of the higher chiefs, their culture, the serf labor of the common Kanaka, their proceeds lavishly expended in apeing the customs, more especially the vicious ones, of the foreigner, knowing these lands to be to them a source of certain income, with comparatively no outlay, no offer, however advantageous, would induce them to sell. They fully appreciate the fable of the goose and the golden egg.

In this brief expose, "I have nothing extenuated, nor set down aught in malice," but have "a plain unvarnished tale related," the truth of which every Californian who has visited these Islands will confirm; the many declarations of the Government press and interested residents to the contrary notwithstanding, and any one visiting here with anticipations based upon a different representation than the one I have given above, will be wofully disappointed, and will unite with me in pronouncing the genial climate, economical living, productive soil, agreeable sources of amusement, together with their whole policy of government, a complete humbug.

FROM SACRAMENTO.

By Last Night's Boat.

Palmer & Co., brought us Sacramento papers of yesterday morning.

The Cholera.—The City Physician stated Monday evening to the Council, that seven cases of cholera had come under his notice, five of which proved fatal. A report was also presented from the Medical Society of the city, which recommends a proper degree of caution in habits and eating.

Indicted for Murder.—Dr. Charles Robinson, John Packer, Henry Colfield, and J. C. Edwards, the leading participants in the riots of the 14th of August, at Sacramento, have been indicted by the Grand Jury, for the murder of J. W. Woodland. The prisoners, with the exception of J. C. Edwards, who died a few days since, were brought into court, but declined pleading at present. Their trials were set down for this morning.

A man named William Pitman, of New York, was found in a vacant lot, sick, Monday morning, and died the same evening.

LAW COURTS.

Superior Court, Oct. 22.—Judge Morse, and Hon. H. C. Murray, Associate, presiding.

J. L. Folsom vs R. N. Morrison. Judge Murray read the opinion, ordering demurrer overruled, and defendants to answer over.

Samuel Lanford vs. City of San Francisco; judgment by default.

Robert Soutter vs. Sea Witch. This case went to a jury, who had not rendered their verdict up to the time of our report.

District Court.—Judge Parsons.

C. H. Morse vs. W. H. McKee; judgment final for $607.

C. Brown vs. Henry Howison; judgment by default.

Wm S. Clark vs. Steamer Gold Hunter; this case went to a jury who returned a verdict for plaintiff in $612.32 damages, with 10 per cent interest.

The case of T. E. Carrington vs. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company was on trial before a jury at the time of adjournment.

County Court.—R. N. Morrison, Judge, sitting for trial of appeals.

Ten cases were heard and disposed of by this court yesterday.

The Cholera.—The existence of cholera in this city is now established. The first case positively ascertained, occurred on Saturday morning and terminated fatally in twenty-four hours.

The patient was visited by the city physician, and also by Drs. Phelan and Bay. We saw him at noon on the 19th, and the symptoms then were such as to leave no hope of his recovery. The usual and certain indications of the disease were fully manifested. Another man was attacked the same morning on the Levee near the Dana's landing, and died in a few hours. Yesterday before daylight, a person came to the Crescent City Hotel and was provided with a bed. A few hours after, he was sent to the hospital and soon after reaching there expired.—[Sac. Times.

A Chance.—We cut the following advertisement from a New York paper. The liberality of the advertiser will be appreciated:

Wanted—A young man with a cash capital of Five Dollars, which may remain at his own disposal; can have an agreeable situation in a highly respectable business by addressing M, box 500 Star office. References required.

☞ There were but three cases of death on board steamer Northerner, and those occurred when only a few days out.

MEDICAL SOCIETY.—This society met last evening by adjournment. Dr. Dunon the President, was in the chair, and made some introductory remarks. He was followed by Dr. Brett, who suggested that a hospital be opened for patients affected with cholera. Dr. Smith remarked that he had rented a building for that purpose—paid the rent in advance—but no patients had been found for it. Several physicians spoke of cases of cholera heard of, but no one had seen any. It was thought that sporadic cases might exist; and that those who died on the schooner, had it.

Dr. Thorp thought something might be suggested which would be useful.

Dr. Houghton described the cases which had occurred on board the schooner. No diarrhœa preceded it in many instances.

Dr Rogers spoke of the history of the approach of the disease from the immigration over the mountains, via Hangtown. Dr Houghton added that a certain patient had taken a great variety of medicines, and that he will die of that. Dr Dunon remarked that it was difficult to trace the history of the disease. Dr West observed that it might not have been brought aboard at all. That such cases occurred on board flatboats on the Mississippi, and that it comes from every direction along the watercourses generally. None occurs in Mobile as an epidemic. Thinks water contains it. Rain water best. That the river water is worst. No disinfectant had been used that was of avail, nor was quarantine of use. Dr Rogers thought it was.

Dr Hubbard, of the Marine Hospital, was called upon to state if he had known of a case of cholera. He said he had not any. That if any had existed, it in every case came from abroad, at least so far as he knew.

Dr Rogers remarked that no vessel had arrived from sea with new cases of cholera occurring, within less than from seven to ten days before they got in.

The Society, on motion of Dr. Harris, therefore reaffirmed the resolution passed at the previous meeting one week since: 'That in the opinion of this Society, although cases have occurred in a few instances, the cholera does not exist as an epidemic in San Francisco.'

Dr. Smith remarked previously, that it was a subject which we could not well pronounce upon.

Dr. Dimon observed that four cases of cholera within the last 24 hours, had occurred in San Francisco; but it was not known if they originated here.

It was suggested that a Board of Health was of importance. Dr. Smith thought the Mayor and Aldermen took a deep interest in the matter.

IMPORTANT NEWS from NICARAGUA by the steamer California.—Hon. E. G. Squier, late Minister from the Government of the United States to Central America, reports that: "In passing from one ocean to the other, by way of Nicaragua, $15 will suffice to transport a passenger across the country. Tolerable accommodations may be obtained for about $9, and one may go across in a cart for $7. The Nicaragua route is by many a mile nearer to all the ports of the United States, and the salubrity of the climate must be deemed an advantage that Panama cannot possess."

Deseret,
...tion with Na-
Legislation, attracting much public attention. The Valley, in which the Mormons have fixed their abode is spoken of highly by travellers to California, who visited it. The Great Salt Lake mentioned so frequently in letters from that region, is the most wonderful natural curiosity in the world.

We learn from the New York papers that there is at present, a delegation from Utah in that city, en route for Great Britain. Their object in crossing the Atlantic is, to induce other members of their faith to emigrate to this country and settle with them in their far off home. The agricultural advantages of the valley in the neighborhood of the Salt Lake are said to be most encouraging. The soil is very fertile, well watered, and easy of cultivation. Trees there are of an immense size, which in connection with fine streams of water, which are numerous offer rare facilities for the erection of mills. All kinds of grain and fruit can be raised without much difficulty. The present population of this valley is put down at 25,000.

The authority from which we learn these facts speak of the Salt Lake as follows:

"It is in extent about sixty miles long and thirty wide. It is composed entirely of salt water, the impregnation of salt being so great that from every five gallons of water fourteen pounds of pure salt can be produced, by boiling or evaporation. This great inland sea, although it has hundreds of inlets by which immense quantities of water are poured into its basin, has no apparent outlet, yet it never overflows. There is a tradition that in its centre, a terrible whirlpool exists, which by an underground communication, discharges in the Pacific Ocean; but Fremont, who explored and sailed over the Lake discovered nothing of the kind. Southeast of the Lake about 120 miles among the mountains, are immense ledges and cliffs of solid rock salt, which it is supposed are deposited from which the Great Lake obtains its salt. A stream which empties into the Lake at the south, passes through some of these salt ledges, receiving the strongest impregnation of salt therefrom; probably hundreds of minor salt-water streams from the same mountains, find their way to the Lake, and hence its saline nature. There are thousands of other most remarkable curiosity of nature scattered throughout Utah valley, such as hot water springs, natural fountains of pure water, which ceaselessly spirt up through the ground, to the infinite astonishment of every beholder; then there are rocks with hieroglyphics cut in them; which no one decipher, &c.. &c."

☞Parson Brownlow, the reverend editor of the Knoxville Whig, thus speaks of that controversy going on in the New Orleans papers, concerning the infernal regions:

Hell or No Hell.—This now is the all-absorbing topic in New Orleans. The periodical approach of warm weather never fails to get up a fierce contest in New Orleans, as to whether there is a Hell or not. While the weather is cold, all parties are willing to concede that there is a Hell, but when the summer solstice is down upon the natives, a large portion of them utterly repudiate the idea of a Hell, as understood by orthodox Christians. The Rev. Messrs. Clapp and Twichell are now contesting the point with zeal and ability. The former swears there is no Hell; the latter avows that he can almost see the place! The controversy ought to be kept up until the question is settled. The peace of society requires a settlement of the vexed question. We suggest that a delegation of both parties be sent Hellwards, on an exploring expedition. It is but a short distance from New Orleans to the capital of the Devil's dominions, which, according to the Bible, is Hell, certain!'

☞There is said to be in one of the county jails in Connecticut, a little girl, her mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. Here iniquity is visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation.

...were reported a while since to have died in England, whereas they were then and are now, alive and well, living on their farm in North Carolina. Dr. W. says the connecting substance between the two is very strong and has no great sensibility; it can be severely handled without causing pain. No pulsating vessel can be felt in it. The slightest motion of the one is immediately followed by the other in the same direction, so that the same wish seems to influence both. This is quite involuntary, or a habit formed by necessity. They always face in one direction, standing nearly side by side, and cannot, without inconvenience, face in opposite directions. One is rather more intellectual than the other; the most intellectual being rather irritable; the other being extremely amiable.

The connection between these twins might afford some very interesting observations in therapeutics and pathology. There is doubtless a connection by minute blood-vessels absorbents and nervous filaments, which might transmit the action of medicines and the causes of disease. As far as known, any indisposition of one extends to the other; they are inclined to sleep and eat at the same time and in the same quantity, and perform in the same manner other similar acts. It is supposed that, when they are asleep, touching one awakens both, but when awake an impulse given to one does not affect the other. The slightest movement of one is so soon perceived by the other, that a careless observer might think they acted simultaneously. No part seems to have a perception common to both, except the middle of the connecting substance and its neighborhood; for when an impression is made at this part, it is felt by both, while beyond this space it is felt only by one on the side to which it is applied.

From the limited vascular and nervous connection that can be discovered, Dr. Warner supposes that the influence of medicine, transmitted from one to the other, would be inconsiderable; and the same would apply to most other diseases: for instance, a slight fever would not probably extend from one to the other; while diseases communicable through the absorbents or capillaries (as small pox) would be readily transmitted. The beatings of both hearts coincide exactly, as also the pulses under ordinary circumstances. If one exerts himself without the other, his pulse alone will be quickened, while the latter is unchanged. They breathe also exactly together.

This harmony in corporeal functions would lead us to ask if there be a similar harmony in the intellectual functions—if they are identically the same persons.—There is no reason to suppose that their intellectual operations are any more the same than they would be in any two persons, confined together, educated under similar circumstances, and with similar habits and tastes.

Then would come the question whether they could be separated with safety. Perhaps such an operation might not be necessarily fatal, but the peritoneum may be continuous from one to the other, and the opening of this great serous cavity might be attended with dangerous symptoms. Should one die before the other, it should be immediately performed, but no surgeon should be justified in attempting such an operation to free them from a mere inconvenience; which inconvenience, if we may believe the reports of their domestic affairs and flourishing condition in worldly goods, is after all of no very great consequence.

WINTERING IN THE MINES.—From all that we can learn, there will be vastly more who will spend the coming winter in the mines than spent the past winter there. The winter is, after all, about the best season for mining, and thousands are preparing to reside there this winter. This is good policy and will prove far preferable to those who do it, to a winter spent in the towns, as experience can testify.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE of California, District of the County of Santa Clara: Jose De Arnrz vs Genoveva Garcia Mangel, Emanuel Mangel and Lorenzo Geoffrey. Petition to foreclose mortgage, &c.:

Whereas, JOSE DE ARNAZ filed in this Court on the 16th day of May, 1850, his petition, showing, among other things, that on the 20th day of December, 1849, Genoveva Garcia Mangel, the wife of Emanuel Mangel, was the owner in fee of a certain house and lot in San Jose, adjoining and in the rear of the house lately occupied by Messrs. Larrain, Benitez & Co., and fronting on Garcia street, did on that day mortgage the same, with the consent of Emanuel Mangel, her husband, to said Arnaz, to secure the sum of five hundred and sixty dollars, payable four months from date: That afterwards, on or about the 15th day of January, 1850, said Emanuel Mangel and Genoveva G. Mangel executed a mortgage on the same premises to one Geoffrey, of San Francisco, for about fourteen hundred dollars; which said mortgage was falsely dated the 19th of December, 1849, with intent to defeat the prior mortgage lien on said real estate, and to cheat and defraud said petitioner out of his debt. Said petitioner prays discovery and full answer to the above facts, that said mortgage to Geoffrey be set aside as fraudulent, and that said premises be sold to pay petitioners's mortgage, and for general relief.

And it being proved by affidavit to the satisfaction of this Court that Emanuel Mangel is a non-resident of this State, notice is hereby given to Emanuel Mangel to be and appear before the Honorable Court of the Third Judicial District, for the County of Santa Clara, on the fourth Monday of December, 1850, at the court house in San Jose, then and there to answer said petition, or, in default thereof, the allegation therein contained will be heard in your absence and decreed accordingly.

Given under my hand and private seal, there being no seal of office yet provided at this office, this 24th of May, A. D. 1850.
